

Administration Places Lid Of Secrecy On Meeting

Executive Committee Approves Move

An American Legion protest against use of Memorial Park by Jehovah's Witnesses was strengthened last night.

In a special meeting, the George N. Kemp post executive committee unanimously approved the Legion's Hall Association's opposition to the use of the park by Witnesses.

The Witnesses had originally planned to use the park for their current three-day Bible convention. Request for such use was refused by the Central Labor Union Social Club board, however.

Club president Thomas Sexton issued a statement simultaneously with that of the Legion last night.

In his statement, Sexton said the club's board had merely exercised its right—as owner of the park and the roller rink building—Witnesses wanted to use—in refusing to approve a sub-lease agreement.

Legion executive committee members issued a statement saying:

"We want to correct a certain misapprehension that the newspapers had. Opposition to leasing of the CLU Memorial Park was the result of a meeting and discussion of the George N. Kemp Post Hall Association board of directors."

"It was not an official action of the post, but of the Hall Association. Main opposition to the use of the park is (centered) in two phases. First—the tenet (by Witnesses) against saluting the flag and second—opposition to serving in the armed services."

"We felt it improper that a park and hall dedicated to men and women in the armed services should be leased to them."

"The executive committee of the Legion tonight unanimously approved the action of the board of directors of the Hall Association," the statement concluded.

A spokesman for the committee said that membership on the Hall Association board and the committee is substantially the same.

In the CLU club statement, Sexton said that "on January 30" the club board had received a letter from Fred N. Severud, leader of the East Stroudsburg Jehovah's Witness congregation.

This letter, Sexton's statement said, asked permission to lease the park for May 14, 15 and 16 for a "Christian meeting." At a regular meeting of the board permission was denied.

On February 22, the statement continued, a letter was sent by the club informing Severud that permission had been denied. On March 15, the statement continued, a letter was received from Frank Fowler, owner of Stroud Enterprises, asking for information on the refusal.

A CLU letter was sent on March 23 stating simply that the action was in accordance with terms of the lease.

"As far as we are concerned as a board of directors," Sexton's statement said, "no formal protest was made by the Legion or any other group."

Both statements—from the CLU Club and the Legion executive committee—were released at the close of a two-hour meeting at the post home last night.

28th Division Colors To Return

Harrisburg (AP) — Adj. Gen. Frank A. Weber said last night formal acceptance of the returned colors of the 28th infantry division will likely take place at Indian-town Gap in August.

The ceremony, he said, is expected to be held in conjunction with the summer encampment of the Pennsylvania National Guard.

Molotov Moves Slightly From Rigid Position Taken By Communists At Geneva Conferences

By Lynn Heinzelberg

Geneva (AP) — Soviet Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov moved slightly yesterday from the rigid position taken by the Communists toward ending the war in Indochina. But formidable obstacles still stand between the Indochina conference and peace.

Molotov proposed an amendment to the Communist armistice plan presented earlier by Vietnamese representatives. The amendment provided for supervision of the armistice by a neutral nation's commission.

Both United States and French spokesmen declined comment, but one French delegation source said it was "a concession on one of the points which we regard most important." Molotov, yesterday's chairman, announced a two-day recess in Indochina talks. He said that a meeting restricted to delegation heads and three advisers each would be held on Monday. This was a move suggested to Molotov privately by British Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden earlier yesterday.

The secret sessions will permit the parties involved—the Big Four, Red China, Laos, Cambodia, Viet Nam and the Vietnamese delegate—to get down to specific proposals. One report said the French were expected to advance detailed proposals for arranging a cease-fire.

This report was supported by the British spokesman, who said, "The United Kingdom believes the main thing is to get the fighting stopped." The spokesman gave the strong impression that Monday's meeting, with Eden as chairman, would be devoted to stopping the shooting as soon as possible.

Another factor affecting Indochina was the disclosure that the French and Americans were expected to open talks on the possibility of internationalizing the war. It was impossible to judge what effect this would have on conference deliberations. Communist delegates have been blasting almost daily at the United States for what they call "intervention" in Indochina and efforts to broaden the war.

Hemingway Reveals Serious Injuries Sustained In Crashes

Madrid, Spain (AP)—Ernest Hemingway said yesterday doctors at one time didn't think he would survive serious injuries and severe burns he suffered in two plane crashes and a heretofore unreported fire-fighting episode in Africa.

One Mile For Each Year

Atlantic City, N. J. (AP) — Alvin F. Bergman, a wiry little man from Leesdale, Pa., said he walked 67 miles on the boardwalk yesterday in celebration of his 67th birthday.

Bergman, who calls himself the "world champion birthday walker," said he started at 4 a.m. and finished his long hike at 5:31 p.m. The trip included 10 roundtrips of about seven miles each from one end of the boardwalk to the other.

Paper To Air Hearings

New York (AP)—The Dumont network announced yesterday that its affiliate station WTVI in St. Louis, Mo., has sold sponsorship of the afternoon telecast of the Army-McCarthy hearings to the St. Louis Post-Dispatch.

This was the first sale of the telecast of the hearings to a commercial sponsor. The price was not disclosed.

The subcommittee Thursday relaxed its ban against commercials on the program.

Dumont and the AEC networks have been televising the proceedings "live" from the hearing room in Washington.

Air Lines To Drop Bradford

Washington (AP) — United Air Lines asked the Civil Aeronautics Board yesterday for authority to drop Bradford, Pa., from its system.

United has served Bradford since September, 1948, on flights between Youngstown, O., and Allentown-Bethlehem-Easton, Pa.

Commission To Meet
Harrisburg (AP)—The Public Utility Commission said yesterday it will stage a pre-hearing conference in Harrisburg on May 24 in an effort to limit the issues on the Scranton Electric Company's proposed $1,175,000 a year rate increase proposal.

President Declares Heart Of U. S. Sound

Washington (AP)—President Eisenhower declared last night the heart of America is sound "even if at times our attention is diverted by unworthy scenes in our national capital."

The President's remark in an informal speech touched off a rousing ovation at an Armed Forces Day dinner at the Statler Hotel.

Eisenhower did not elaborate on his statement about "unworthy scenes in our national capital." But his remarks apparently were interpreted by many in the audience as an allusion to the row between Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis.) and Secretary of the Army Stevens.

At the same dinner Deputy Secretary of Defense Robert B. Anderson said it is of "transcendent importance" that there be collective effort by the United States and its allies to prevent any further Communist gains anywhere in the world.

Anderson did not specifically mention Indochina, but his remarks were timed to the American endeavor to muster big power help to keep Communism from taking over Southeast Asia.

Eisenhower, too, made no mention of Indochina and the rest of Southeast Asia. But he did declare:

"Free men can do anything when they are united in a common cause and set their hearts to that cause."

Anderson expressed his views in a prepared address for the Armed Forces Day dinner.

Eisenhower, in his brief informal talk, reminisced in a mellow mood about his days in the Army. He recalled it was 43 years ago this month that he entered West Point as a cadet.

As he spoke, however, the President became quite serious. He referred to the "terrible power of destructive weapons" and "the uncontrolled ruthlessness of unbridled ambition."

The President cited the dictatorships of Genghis Khan, Hitler and Mussolini and declared they are "all gone."

Then he said he wanted to speak of one more thing.

"Never forget," Eisenhower declared, "the strength of freedom and the free world. We know how much we value the right to worship as we please and to choose our occupations."

AEC Quiet On Report

Washington (AP)—The Atomic Energy Commission said last night its New York office will be reorganized but refused comment on a published report that a second important AEC advisor "has been challenged on security grounds."

There was no specific comment, either, on a report that three of the five AEC commissioners and several top staff members are planning to quit.

The first top advisor challenged for security reasons was Dr. J. Robert Oppenheimer, a pioneer scientist in the atomic energy program. He was given a hearing, results of which have not yet been announced.

A commission staff member said reorganization of the New York office will result in letting out some people and transferring others but there was no indication that top level personnel might be affected. The changes, to take effect July 1, will shift some New York functions to Oak Ridge, Tenn.

United Nations, N.Y. (AP) — Representatives of the people of the Marshall Islands in the Pacific have appealed to the United Nations for an immediate end to experiments with hydrogen bombs in their area.

They reported the inhabitants of two atolls in the island group—Rongelab and Utrik—are suffering from a lowering of the blood count, burns, nausea and are losing hair from their heads since the recent U.S. hydrogen explosion tests.

These are symptoms which have been noted among persons who have become victims of radioactive activity from nuclear explosions.

Lee Resigns From Post With Stroudsburg Borough Council After Five Years Of Service

Samuel A. Lee has turned in his resignation as Third Ward councilman in Stroudsburg.

In a letter to council Mr. Lee said the press of business plus the increased time required by his duties as justice of the peace made it necessary for him to give up his council activities.

Council President Edward R. Lawson said he learned of Lee's decision with "deep regret," and said, on behalf of council that Lee's help in borough government would be missed.

The resignation will be acted upon at the next meeting of council.

A Democrat, Lee has served on council five years. His election as a peace justice last year marked the first time in years that the borough had had the services of two justices.

Rescue Craft Fails To Return From Flight To Dien Bien Phu

Hanoi, Indochina (AP)—The French Command announced last night that a helicopter had flown to Dien Bien Phu to start an airlift of seriously wounded French soldiers from the fallen fortress but had failed to return.

The announcement corrected earlier reports from French sources that the first group of wounded had been flown to the Laotian capital of Luang Prabang from the Vietnam-held bastion 175 miles west of Hanoi.

A spokesman said the helicopter left Luang Prabang about 8 a. m. (8 p. m. EDT), Thursday and landed at Dien Bien Phu probably around 10 a. m. (10 p. m. EDT), Thursday.

He added that storms were sweeping the Dien Bien Phu area and may have prevented the aircraft from flying out again.

The command spokesman said he had no information to indicate that possibly there was "a political reason" why the evacuation had not started on schedule, or that there might have been a last minute hitch among conferees at Geneva who paved the way for the evacuation agreement.

French sources at Geneva said the Vietnam was raising its price for evacuation of all of the wounded, with demands that the whole area around Dien Bien Phu be neutralized to permit free movement of their troops in and out of the region.

The French said they had no further news than that 16 men, suffering critical head and stomach wounds, had been picked up at noon from the bloodsoaked fortress where they had fallen in the battle with the new victorious Vietnamese rebels.

Fine Makes Break Official

Harrisburg (AP) — Gov. John S. Fine formalized his break with Sen. M. Harvey Taylor, Republican state chairman, yesterday.

The governor, at odds with Taylor for more than a year, made it official by designating Edward A. Herre Sr., Harrisburg plumbing contractor, as his Dauphin County contact on patronage matters.

Although George C. Deibel, Harrisburg, is Dauphin County GOP chairman, Taylor long has been actual leader.

"The Dauphin County Republican organization has failed to function during the past six months insofar as the state administration is concerned," Fine said in a statement.

Taylor is bucking Fine's endorsement of former Judge Ralph T. Bell, Pittsburgh, for one of three Republican nominations to the State Superior Court.

Voice Of Firestone To Leave TV

New York (AP)—One of the oldest programs on the air, the Voice of Firestone, is departing from NBC radio and television as a result of hot network competition for high TV popularity ratings.

The Firestone Tire & Rubber Co. announced last night the program of June 7 would be the last on the National Broadcasting Co. because the network had advised that Monday night time on its TV hookup no longer would be available.

Marshall Islands Appeal To United Nations For Immediate End To Hydrogen Bomb Tests

United Nations, N.Y. (AP) — Representatives of the people of the Marshall Islands in the Pacific have appealed to the United Nations for an immediate end to experiments with hydrogen bombs in their area.

They reported the inhabitants of two atolls in the island group—Rongelab and Utrik—are suffering from a lowering of the blood count, burns, nausea and are losing hair from their heads since the recent U.S. hydrogen explosion tests.

These are symptoms which have been noted among persons who have become victims of radioactive activity from nuclear explosions.

Regarding the request for an immediate end to the experiments, Lodge called attention to the American announcement yesterday that the 1954 series of tests has been completed.

Lodge also assured the Marshallese people that safety measures would be taken and compensation would be made for damages.

The Marshallese petition said that the people are fearful not only of the danger from "another miscalculation" on the lethal weapons but for the increasing number of people being removed from their land. It said land is the very life of the people and the residents there are beginning to ask "Where Next?" as more and more islands are taken for military use.

Committee May Summon High Key Officials

By Ed Creagh

Washington (AP) — The Eisenhower administration yesterday clamped a secrecy lid on a now-famous meeting which helped prepare the way for the Army's challenge to Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis.).

The "don't talk" edict brought swift protests from Democrats on the McCarthy-Army Investigations subcommittee. They demanded that top federal officials — up to but not including President Eisenhower—be called if necessary to find out whether the Army's actions were masterminded at the highest level of government.

The meeting in question was held January 21 and was attended by Sherman Adams, the President's top assistant; and Atty. Gen. Brownell.

Army Counselor John G. Adams testified Wednesday that Sherman Adams advised him at this meeting, held in Brownell's office, to keep a written record of the Army's troubles with McCarthy's office over Pvt. G. David Schine. Later publication of this record led to the present blazing row.

Yesterday Democrats on the subcommittee pressed for more details of the meeting, and down over the televised hearings came the administration's secrecy lid.

Joseph N. Welch, counsel to the Army officials, said Adams had been instructed to say no more about the meeting. These instructions, he said, came from the acting head of the Defense Department, Robert Anderson. Welch added that he understood Anderson was transmitting them for somebody else.

That pointed to the White House. And at the White House, Assistant Press Secretary Murray Snyder, when asked if the order originated there, would say only: "I have no information to give out."

Welch tried and failed during the noon recess of the hearings to get some explanation in writing for the investigators. Reluctantly, the Democrats agreed to give him the weekend to make a further attempt.

But Sen. McClellan (Ark.), senior Democrat on the investigating unit, declared he means to find out "if there was someone higher than Mr. Adams and Secretary of the Army Stevens that was directing their actions" when the fight with McCarthy was developing.

With Senators Symington (D-Mo) and Jackson (D-Wash) voicing like sentiments, McClellan declared that unless he is shown some law to the contrary he will insist on questioning any top level officials who directed the Army's actions.

"I will not ask the President of the United States to come—no," McClellan said. "But as to others who participated in it, I think they are appropriate witnesses if their testimony is relevant to any issue that is now before this committee."

John Adams has said those at the January 21 meeting—besides himself, Sherman Adams and Brownell—were Gerald Morgan of the White House staff, Deputy Atty. Gen. William P. Rogers and Ambassador Cabot Lodge Jr., who is ambassador to the United Nations but who was then on temporary duty as a White House aide.

Queen Elizabeth Arrives In London

London (AP)—Queen Elizabeth II sailed home last night to mist-shrouded England from an historic six months globe-girdling tour. First to greet her was Prime Minister Winston Churchill, who boarded the royal yacht Britannia in Southampton Harbor at the Queen's special invitation.

The 79-year-old Prime Minister dined with the sun-tanned young Queen and her husband, the Duke of Edinburgh. Churchill remained aboard as the Britannia moved slowly down the English Channel coast to anchor in the Thames Estuary today.

Group Takes Stand

Washington (AP)—Republican National Chairman Leonard W. Hall said yesterday that all members of the party's Executive Committee with whom he had talked "don't see any good coming out of the McCarthy-Army hearings for anybody."

Life is much like this race. It is a hard struggle against odds, a contest to be won.

This race begins in the cradle when the "little man" bangs his first rattle against the crib. It continues when he takes his first step, rides his first bike, carries his first books to school, and comes home with his first girl friend.

Preparation for living is all-important. Our children have so much to gain, so very much to lose. They will need robust health, a well-rounded education, but most important of all, they will need moral and spiritual strength. They must learn to interpret God's will concerning their lives.

Take your children to Church, so that their future destiny may be guided by God's word. And by example, show them how the most important race of all can be won—the race of life.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL...
ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Fill Up the Ranks

The Pennsylvania National Guard currently is conducting an intensive two-month recruiting campaign to fill up the ranks of the reorganizing 28th Infantry Division and other units allocated to the Commonwealth.

Savings bonds will be awarded those Guardsmen who recruit 10 or more members, and in some cases the unit itself will be given a prize.

Pennsylvania's proud military heritage must not be allowed to deteriorate. From the earliest days of our young nation, the men of Pennsylvania have maintained forces of civilian soldiery whose participation in the struggle to keep the country free has become an important element in the history of this state.

Now the organizations of the Guard are once more in process of building back to the strength enjoyed in the days before World War II and in the period between the end of that war and the Korean struggle. They should have the enthusiastic support of all who believe in maintaining a strong component within the state, so it behooves everyone to lend a hand in this recruiting campaign in order that the August period of field training may find the outfits at full strength.

Too many times we have observed an unfortunate apathy among the citizenry at large, insofar as supporting the Guard and Reserve elements in the several communities is concerned.

Remember the glorious history of our own Company G.

General Washington

George Washington may well have been "first in war, first in peace, and first in the hearts of his countrymen," but he has not been first of all the generals and that's something Pennsylvania's two United States Senators want to have corrected.

It appears that in recent years, with the expansion of the armed services and the consequent elevation in rank of a number of officers to command these forces, General Washington has slipped to 46th place on the list of general officers of the United States Army.

Ahead of him are many contemporary generals, and not a few who have been given the last rites at Arlington Cemetery. True enough, the man who led the troops through our War of the Revolution still ranks a great horde of lieutenant-generals, but he in turn is ranked by all Generals, by all Generals of the Army, and by our one General of the Armies, the late John Joseph Pershing.

This, claim Senators Martin and Duff, should not be and they have accordingly introduced a bill establishing the rank of George Washington as "General of the Armies" and dating it back to June 18, 1775. That makes it certain he would forever rank that other General of the Armies, the man who led the First American Expeditionary Force to France in 1917.

We are strongly in favor of this bill and hope that it moves briskly and without opposition to and past the desk of former Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower. Surely not a single one of the individual generals who presently rank George Washington could object to having the great Virginian placed at the head of the military list of our nation for all time.

The Once Over

—by H. I. Phillips

Delinquency in the U.S.S.R.

From Moscow comes the news that Russia, too, has a serious juvenile delinquency problem.

The kids are unreasonably argumentative, stubborn, quarrelsome, discursive and hard to get along with. (The Communists can't figure out where they get their ideas.)

We have collected a few test cases:

1—Ivan K., aged 10. When ordered to eat his cereal he walks out. Plays hockey and, when caught by truant officer, screams that truant officer is guilty of an act of aggression. Declares all homework is a capitalistic requirement.

2—Petrov M., aged 16. Was left at home as baby-sitter while parents went to a ballet. Had strict orders not to leave the house. Vetoed the whole proposition.

3—Sonia M., aged 3. Has frequent tantrums during which she busts up all toys. When mother tries to quiet her by reading nursery tales, Sonia expresses extreme disgust and wants mother to play war games, using live ammunition. Took canary out of cage and beat it to death. Insisted it had flown over frontier.

4—Jascha E., aged 7. Set fire to school because teacher came in wearing a red, white and blue blouse. Took a punch at judges of school debate who would not give him the prize as best orator before hearing the debate. Had severe stomachache after eating too much and accused parents of germ warfare.

5—Nicholas Z., aged 16. Big disappointment to folks. They were delighted when his first spoken word as a baby was "Nyet!" But he now wants to know first what the proposition, question and issue are. At the age of 4 he began listening patiently while others talked. At 10 years he was heard to say, "You may be right." It is not unusual today for him to express a belief there are two sides to any argument. May have to be liquidated.

6—Peter L., aged 11. Very alarming case. Prefers circus parade to military reviews in Red Square. Never has played with toy guns. One wrote, "I love Pavlova" on a poster of Joe Stalin.

Yoo Hoo, Senators!

The secret for probes

in a big hurry-hurry!

Start nothing on time

And quit very early!

Maybe it is the memoirs of Harold Liles that are causing all those windshields to blister.

"What's he standing around out there so long for?" a TV baseball watcher asked, as a manager huddled longer than usual on the mound with a faltering pitcher.

"I dunno," replied a companion, "but it's probably a point of order."

Impressions of Current Events: Senator Mundt, the corner groceryman explaining why the groceries were late.

Senator McClellan: The Arkansas Traveler in a video audition; Senator Symington: The class orator; Senator Jackson: The sidishow ballyhoo man; Senator Dirksen: The vocal teacher demonstrating the round tones; Mr. Jenkins: The lion trainer who works without a chair; Secretary Stevens: Little Eva repudiating the bloodhounds; Joseph Welch: The country-store proprietor whisking the cracker barrel away so everybody can go home to dinner.

Elizabeth Arden has a thoroughbred, "Jet Action," which won a stake the other day.

Home on the "chintrap," gave the opposition a "powdering," "skinned" through on the rail, and made it a "beautiful" finish, no doubt.

Laugh of the Month: Ex-President Truman, top man of a Party that got America into two world wars and the Korean shindig, criticizing like Eisenhower for not having a good foreign policy.

The czar of trotting tracks in New York is ex-Police Commissioner Monaghan and we hear that through force of habit he tried to fingerprint a horse the other day and was heard saying to another trotter, "So ya won't talk."

Definition of the Washington TV show: Hairsplitting by video.

You can sit back for a weekend when Senators McClellan or Jackson make with those five words, "I propose to be brief."

We have a yen to see Alfred Drake in "The Wild Duck."

Maybe it is the memoirs of Harold Liles that are causing all those windshields to blister.

"What's he standing around out there so long for?" a TV baseball watcher asked, as a manager huddled longer than usual on the mound with a faltering pitcher.

"I dunno," replied a companion, "but it's probably a point of order."

Impressions of Current Events: Senator Mundt, the corner groceryman explaining why the groceries were late.

Senator McClellan: The Arkansas Traveler in a video audition; Senator Symington: The class orator; Senator Jackson: The sidishow ballyhoo man; Senator Dirksen: The vocal teacher demonstrating the round tones; Mr. Jenkins: The lion trainer who works without a chair; Secretary Stevens: Little Eva repudiating the bloodhounds; Joseph Welch: The country-store proprietor whisking the cracker barrel away so everybody can go home to dinner.

Elizabeth Arden has a thoroughbred, "Jet Action," which won a stake the other day.

Home on the "chintrap," gave the opposition a "powdering," "skinned" through on the rail, and made it a "beautiful" finish, no doubt.

Laugh of the Month: Ex-President Truman, top man of a Party that got America into two world wars and the Korean shindig, criticizing like Eisenhower for not having a good foreign policy.

The czar of trotting tracks in New York is ex-Police Commissioner Monaghan and we hear that through force of habit he tried to fingerprint a horse the other day and was heard saying to another trotter, "So ya won't talk."

Definition of the Washington TV show: Hairsplitting by video.

You can sit back for a weekend when Senators McClellan or Jackson make with those five words, "I propose to be brief."

We have a yen to see Alfred Drake in "The Wild Duck."

Monroe County Court Crier Raps Gavel For Final Time Before Entering Retirement

By Pete Olwyler

"Oyez! Oyez! Oyez!" Slender, white-haired Henry Hester gave the ancient cry for the last time yesterday.

"This court is now adjourned until the first Monday in June." The 78-year-old court crier gave his gavel a last sharp rap. A few minutes later he picked up his gold-headed cane put on his hat and left the court house for good—at least officially.

Henry Hester

There had been a few informal words between President Judge Fred W. Davis and the court crier before court ended for the May session.

"Mr. Hester, working with you has been pleasant. We appreciate all the cooperation and help you have given us," the judge said. "We hope you'll be back to visit us—and as a former court officer, we extend the privilege of sitting inside the rail."

(The rail separates spectators in the courtroom from the portion reserved for lawyers, judges, juries and court officials.)

Hester has been court crier for a month less than 10 years. He served first under the late President Judge Shull.

Most of his life was as a school teacher. After attending Belvidere Academy, just across the Delaware River, he taught grade school at Franklin School, Martins Creek, in Northampton County, as a youth of 18. That was in 1893. He later attended East Stroudsburg Normal School, resumed his teaching career, wound up as principal of Ramsey School in Stroudsburg. He retired in 1937, to be succeeded as principal by a young man named John Litts.

In 1944 Judge Shull asked Hester to be court crier. He served until yesterday. Mr. Hester said he was resigning because he was becoming somewhat hard of hearing and because his wife was ill and needed assistance at home, 917 Church St., Stroudsburg.

No new court crier has been appointed to replace Mr. Hester. A crier's duties are to open and close court sessions, and serve generally to assist the judge in locating witnesses and attorneys, and swearing in witnesses.

The traditional cry, "Oyez!" means "Hear!" or "Attend!" and is given to command silence before the reading of a proclamation. The word rhymes with OH-YES.

Rotzell Dies In Hospital

Reynolds Sentenced To Year In County Jail

Three Others Sentenced To Lesser Terms

Fines and jail terms were ordered yesterday by President Judge Fred W. Davis for four men charged with turning in false fire alarms.

Two — James Reynolds and Eugene VanHorn — had been found guilty by a petit jury after a four-day trial. A third, David Miller, had already pleaded guilty before Judge Davis. The fourth, William Schoonover, made his guilty plea yesterday.

The sentences: Reynolds, $500 and a year in county jail; VanHorn, $300 and eight months; Schoonover, $100 and five months; Miller, $100 and four months.

Reynolds and VanHorn served as their own counsel through the trial. After being found guilty, Reynolds petitioned for a new trial Thursday night. Yesterday he withdrew the motion.

Testimony at the lengthy trial revolved around details of where the four men were and what they were doing in the early morning of February 15, when two false alarms were sounded in East Stroudsburg.

Miller and Schoonover testified for the State. They admitted the charges. Reynolds and VanHorn denied all knowledge of the false alarms.

Prothonotary James Gould indicated total costs of the trial probably ran to more than $200 a day.

Jury fees for the four days ran to $336. Witness fees totaled about $150. Other expenses of operating included cost of court officials during course of the trial, mileage, fees, and miscellaneous.

Total cost for all petit jurors during the May term was $958.16. A number of other guilty pleas were made yesterday before Judge Davis. The cases were presented by District Attorney Elmer D. Christine.

Aaron Fox of Saylorsburg admitted guilt in a charge of forgery and four charges of burglary. Officer Travis Seese of East Stroudsburg served as prosecutor. Fox confessed burglarizing four East Stroudsburg business places and forging a $25 check.

Earl Mosier Jr., 19, East Stroudsburg, pleaded guilty of burglarizing a truck loaded with beer.

Attorneys J. J. McCluskey and Edward L. Hoffer were appointed by the court to serve as counsel for both Fox and Mosier.

John W. Brink, Analomink, pleaded guilty on a morals charge. The court appointed Attorneys Hoffer and Ed Williams as counsel.

Sentences were deferred in all the latter cases.

Hospital To Hold Open House

Facilities at the General Hospital will be open to the public from 2 to 4 p.m. tomorrow as the East Stroudsburg hospital marks Open House.

Harry Smith, superintendent, said last night a group of Grey Ladies will serve as guides, conducting visitors on a tour of various rooms in the building.

Company Answers Grass Fire

A grass fire summoned volunteers of East Stroudsburg's fire company at 10:30 a.m. yesterday. Firemen said only a small area was burned on Brown St., near the borough line.

Monroe County Bar Association Releases Endorsement Of Rhodes For Superior Court

A resolution endorsing the candidacy of Judge Chester H. Rhodes for reelection to the Superior Court of Pennsylvania was released yesterday by Monroe County Bar Association.

Prepared by C. Edward DePuy and Alex L. Bensinger who were named by the association membership Monday to draft the resolution, the document supports the Stroudsburg judge in his bid at the November general election.

President Judge Rhodes, member of the Superior Court for the past 20 years, is endorsed in the resolution which follows:

WHEREAS, throughout this period he has been entirely faithful to the trust reposed in him by the citizens of this Commonwealth and has performed the duties of his high office with fearless impartiality, but with all due consideration to lawyer and to litigant, and has distinguished himself and the Court of which he is President Judge, by his learning, his conscientious attention to the work of the Court, his integrity and eminent qualifications for service upon the bench, entitling him to continue in that service, and —

WHEREAS, this Association recognizes that the existence of all our rights, liberties and institutions is dependent upon the maintenance of our Courts, free from any taint of partisan influence, and further recognizes that this fundamental safeguard can be preserved only by the retention in office of Judges who have shown themselves to be honest, courageous and competent,

THEREFORE, be it resolved, that the Monroe County Bar Association endorse the candidacy of the Honorable Chester H. Rhodes for reelection to the Superior Court of Pennsylvania; that we sincerely commend him to the citizens of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania for reelection to that Court; and that a copy of this resolution be sent to Judge Rhodes.

Members at West End Fire Co. firehouse heard the law cited in support of the argument. Vehicles are forbidden to operate within 500 feet of fire apparatus answering an alarm. Penalty is $10 fine and costs or five days in jail.

Members suggested seeking motorists' cooperation first — then prosecuting if necessary. Firemen recalled instances of traffic jams caused by cars chasing fire engines and interfering with service.

Association president Elwood Christman, Pocono Lake, named a committee to set up bi-monthly programs. On the committee: William Torzillo, Stroudsburg; William Gould, Effort; Marlin A. Bitterman, Tannersville.

Next meeting will be at Delaware Water Gap July 14; Saylorsburg September 9, and Tobyhanna November 11.

North Carolina exports about 40 per cent of the flue cured tobacco the produces.

Great Grandson On Birthday

Delaware Water Gap — Mrs. Estella Bisbing received an unusual birthday gift here Wednesday, the date of her anniversary. She learned a granddaughter, Mrs. Everett Ellis of Collingswood, N. J., the former Judith Fogg, gave birth to a son, Paul, that day.

Just Between Us

—By Bobby Westbrook

It might have been sort of startling this week if you had been able to peek into the Amaranth meeting and see a group of dignified and proper matrons parading around in their night-shirts.

However, there's more to the story than that. Seems they're members of the largest Helen Little Club in the state, and in January when she was visiting, the matter of this official visit came up. What should they wear, they wondered? Her immediate reply was to the effect that she appreciated them so much that they could wear anything—their nightgowns if they pleased.

Well, it pleased their sense of humor to take her at her word and from trunks and attics they resurrected the finest lot of demure and all embracing old fashioned nightgowns you could wish to see—and that was what they wore to escort her to her place of honor—each of them carrying candles.

And very becoming some of the nightgowns were, too. Who knows they may start a new style trend. And speaking of style trends, the juniors after their prom last night in their brief blooming in white dinner jackets and floor length gowns with heels and earrings, certainly reverted back to blue jeans and sneakers fast enough this morning.

May take a little shampooing to get the glitter out of their hair, but otherwise the well-scrubbed, faded jeans, sloppy jacket look was back with a vengeance. It's nice to know that they can look beautiful, though, when the occasion requires.

—Listen To Bobby Westbrook daily, Monday through Friday, on "The Party Line" WVPO, 10:15 a.m.

Pocono Club Has Talk On Arrangements

Tannersville — Mrs. Ruth Leary, president of the Pocono Garden Club, called its meeting to order on Tuesday afternoon, May 11, with an appropriate message of welcome.

Mrs. A. H. Mathieson reported for the roadside beautification committee in the absence of Mrs. Norah Stadden, to the progress of that committee in the Scott run marker matter and placement on state map of that section.

Mrs. Clyde White reported for the Rossica Falls Picnic on June 8, stating it is to be a covered dish lunch served at twelve o'clock and that each one attending is to bring their own table service. Desert and beverages will be served by the committee. She suggests they try to assemble by eleven o'clock and members of the committee will meet them at the entrance. Members are to provide their own transportation.

There were 39 members and friends present, including three guests. Mrs. Rothmiller of Meisortown, Mrs. Carrie Walton and Mrs. John Olsen of Rocky Point, L. I.

Mrs. Edward Horn introduced the speaker, Mrs. Arthur P. Snyder, who spoke on "Flower Arrangements." Mrs. Snyder is the wife of Rev. Arthur P. Snyder, pastor of the Mahony Valley Lutheran Parish of three or four churches. At their home near Lehighton they have developed a beautiful garden. Mrs. Snyder, a member of the Welty family of Allentown, was a teacher in that city before her marriage. At a Lutheran Conference in the Middle West last year she gave an amusing account of her experience in being transferred from her teaching position in a city to that of pastor's wife in a rural section.

She had brought to the club meeting flowers of many varieties as well as containers, dollies for table settings and many objects to add interest. She stated most of the flower arrangement fundamentals have come from the Japanese.

She spoke of the importance of keeping in mind the background against which arrangements are to be placed, illustrating this as she made up each arrangement by placing against either a dark or light background. Her first arrangement was various shades of yellow through saffron of gerbera against white pine sprays. Gerbera is grown from a bulb and not many members were familiar with it.

She mentioned that one tablespoonful of sugar to a gallon of water will help preserve flowers much better than aspirin.

She spoke of the relationship of container to the kind of flower being used, calling attention to the fact that in glass containers the water level should be well up to the top for appearance sake. She illustrated the use of corsages on candelabra, at a dinner party where corsages could afterwards be given guests and stressed the importance of reserving a point of interest in restrained fashion, such as a darker shade and variety, lilacs and deep purple pansies.

Refreshments of strawberry shortcake with whipped cream and hot beverages were served by Mrs. Stanley Hartman and her aids, Mrs. Dale Learn, Mrs. William Clugston, Miss Grace Dreher and Mrs. Alfred Learn. Several flower arrangement exhibits were judged by the committee.

Water Gap PTA

Del. Water Gap — The PTA meeting which will be held Monday night, at 8 p.m. in the school house will receive the report of the nominating committee. The matter of school jointure will be discussed with the citizens at that meeting by Mr. H. Jackson LaBar, president of the Water Gap school board.

First Graders Learn Care Of Pets At School

The children of the first grade of the Laboratory School had a practical demonstration of how to care for their pets during "Be Kind to Animals Week."

They had as their guest Dr. Lincoln Kutsher, veterinarian, who combed and groomed "Bonnie," the collie dog owned by Connie Burrus of the first grade. After his demonstration, and a talk on dog care, the children asked him many questions about their own pets and about the science of their social studies on "How We Enjoy Our Pets."

Student teachers who assisted in the program were Miss Nancy Deilly, Miss Marcella Pfeiffer and Mrs. Mininger. Mrs. Helen Booth is supervisor of the first grade, and Mrs. Pauline Peterson and Dr. Nathan Meyer.

Mrs. Marvin Has A Big Week

Bartonsville — A birthday and Mother's Day set off a pleasant series of events for Mrs. Francis M. Marvin. She celebrated her birthday on May 2. Shortly thereafter, her sister, Mrs. Cordelia Price LaZebnik, of Reading, Ohio, came for a visit to Monroe County. The two sisters were joined by another sister, Mrs. Bertha Edinger, East Stroudsburg, for church on Sunday morning.

After church they were the guests of Mrs. Marvin's daughter, Mrs. Elwyn Poinard and her husband, of Briar Creek, at the American Restaurant for dinner, and then for a ride through the mountains.

On their return, Mrs. Marvin received a telephone call from another daughter, Mrs. Henry Topfer of Millington, N. J.

Pocono Chorus To Sing At Dedication

The Pocono Male Chorus of Stroudsburg will go to Scranton on Sunday afternoon where they will present a concert of sacred music at the dedication service in the Bethany Baptist Church. Rev. Elias Auger, former pastor of the Beakleyville Baptist Church, is the minister at Bethany Baptist.

The services will be held at 2:30 p.m. and members of the chorus will meet at the home of Thomas Barry, corner of Ninth and Scott Sts. not later than 1 p.m. on Sunday afternoon.

The chorus will be under the direction of Thomas Barry with Mrs. Dewey Jacoby as accompanist. A number of local people plan to attend the concert.

Local Woman Speaks At Dedication

Bartonsville — Mrs. Ann Hawkes Hutton, of Bartonsville and Bristol, was one of the speakers when the graves of the Revolutionary War heroes were officially dedicated on May 8 at ceremonies held at Washington Crossing Park. The park marks the starting point of George Washington's Christmas Eve crossing of the Delaware in 1776 to Trenton, N. J.

Mrs. Hutton, a native of Bucks County, is a member of the Washington Crossing Park commission and has been very active in the restoration of the Thompson-Neely House there.

Mrs. Hutton has done extensive research on the background of the park and is author of "George Washington Crossed Here," an historical book. Profits from the book sales have been used for the development of the Thompson-Neely House and Old Ferry Inn, both located in the park, as museums.

Other speakers at the dedication included Gov. John S. Fine and Gov. Robert Meyer.

Mrs. Teada Is Feted On Birthday

Bartonsville — Mrs. John Teada celebrated her birthday on Saturday, May 8, with a family get-together at her home. Refreshments were served, including a birthday cake baked by her daughter-in-law, Doris Teada.

Those present were Mr. and Mrs. Charles Teada and daughter, Ginnie Mae, of Tannersville; Mr. and Mrs. Howard Teada and daughter, Darlene, of Mount Zion, and Mr. and Mrs. John Teada and daughter, Carol, of Bartonsville.

Junior Band, Chorus To Entertain PTA

The Stroudsburg Parent Teachers Association will close the season with a musical program on Monday night at 8 in the high school auditorium.

The Junior Band will play and members of the elementary chorus will sing a group of songs for the parents. An important business meeting will be held, and refreshments will be served following the program.

Analomink PTA Schedules Banquet in June

Analomink — The Analomink Parent Teachers Association held a covered dish supper preceding their final meeting of the year.

Mrs. Lillian Wagner tendered her resignation as treasurer, since she has been appointed a teacher in the Clearview school next term. Mrs. Clair Metzgar was appointed as the new treasurer.

Mrs. Vernon Pennell, president, announced plans for a banquet and outing to be held early in June.

The PTA discussed the proposed merger of the Stroudsburg, Stroud Township and Delaware Water Gap school districts. Plans were also discussed for raising PTA funds for next year.

Attending the meeting were: Mrs. Lillian Wagner, Mrs. Addie Weidman, Mrs. Vernon Pennell, Mrs. Melvin Bush, Mrs. Ernest Cramer, Mrs. Chester Van Vleet, Mrs. Wayne Metzgar, Mrs. Clair Metzgar, Mrs. Max Hess, Mrs. Russell Transue, Mrs. Gladys Goucher and daughter Diane, and Herman Pensyl.

Alumni To Meet

The East Stroudsburg Alumni Association will meet on Monday night at 7:30 in the high school building. All alumni are urged to attend to help plan the annual banquet.

Crown Seekers Class

Crown Seekers Sunday School class of East Stroudsburg Methodist Church will meet at 7:30 p.m. Monday in the Guild hall.

THE Wyckoff SHOPPER

What price vanity? — Just $5.95, if you must know, and it's a lightweight mesh you're asking about. Mae Coffman showed me our new shipment of girdles yesterday afternoon, and they're far from the drab, utilitarian garments of years ago. They're dainty . . . cool . . . and beautiful.

This particular Vanity mentioned above is geometrically patterned in a mesh that's woven for strength but prettily "lattice" for comfort. It's zipped at the side, and will allow freedom of movement while still providing adequate figure control.

Slightly higher in price is the Vanity of pretty white eyelet-embroidered cotton. This has side and back panels of leno elastic, re-inforced for abdominal support. The back of this girdle is firm and efficient, and the front has two stays, so that your figure will stay as sweet as you are! Price of this is $8.95.

Other "newsy" items include two by Formfit—a summer mesh at $10, and an all-in-one at $12.50. For the junior figure there's an entire table of summer Flexuits priced from $2 to $5. Whatever your need for a truly fine foundation garment this summer, our Wyckoff corset department gets your "message."

Everything comes in a compact parcel these days, making it appear that she who travels or lives in a closet is the most important citizen on the social scene. Taking its place neatly alongside of the folding umbrella is the folded Korosel raincoat now being sold in our notions department. This smart and important bit of attire in translucent white is available in small, medium, and large sizes at $2.98. By Rainfashions of Fifth Avenue, these raincoats are destined to be outstanding bits of sunshine for the rainiest rainy day.

Also in our notions department you'll find plastic shower slippers with a rough sole to keep you from slipping in the tub. If you're traveling, these sandals will safeguard you against athlete's foot. They'll fit easily into your luggage, they have no weight worth mentioning, and they'll also be practical on the beach. You'll find them in blue, yellow, jade, and clear white, at 89c a pair.

I still can't decide whether that's a real lollipop in our center aisle, or a decorator's dream fashioned of Styrofoam. Must ask Elsie Miller. In either case, it's a mighty toothsome object so far as the children are concerned. To be safe, maybe we'd just better refer to it as a "Golly-pop."

Coming in today? I'll see you!

ESSTC Plays Host To Kutztown

Kutztown Teachers will supply the opposition in the next to last baseball game of the present season for East Stroudsburg State Teachers College today, when the long-standing foes clash on the Normal Hill field.

Coach George Ockershausen announced last night that Tom Foley would be on the firing line for the Warriors, as the host club attempts to improve on its present record of five wins and the same number of setbacks.

ESSTC came up with a 22-11 victory over Kutztown in a game played earlier this season, at Kutztown.

Positions

Ockershausen plans to stick with the same lineup that has carried the bulk of the load this season. This means that Don Bachtell will again do the catching, while Bob Hartman operates at first base; Charles Shaw, second base; Lyle Krall, shortstop; Carmen Martucci, third base; Art Schaare, left field; Norman Antoine, center field; and Byrd Stouff, right field.

ESSTC winds up the 1954 baseball season at home next Saturday against Lincoln University.

While Kutztown and ESSTC are battling in baseball today, the same two schools will also clash in a men's tennis match. The tennis action also gets underway at 2 p.m.

ESSTC won over Kutztown in a previous tennis match, 5-4. It is the final match of the season for the Warriors.

Players Asked To Report

At least two members of each team in the Monroe County Softball League must appear at Gordon Giffels field today at 1:30 p.m. president Jack Mullins announced last night. The group will erect the new backstop at the time.

Blue Mountain Loop In Action

Eight Blue Mountain League baseball clubs will swing into their second round of games tomorrow. Each contest is slated to get underway at 2:30 p.m.

Pocono A. C., winner of its opening game against Portland, will oppose Johnsonville, on the latter's home field. Manager Bill Frear is expected to use either Harold Jacobsen or Bill "Bump" Metzger on the mound.

The remainder of the Pocono A. C. lineup will find Fred Gahres in left field; Al Adelmann, center field; George Litts, right field;

Monroe County Field Day To Be Held On East Stroudsburg State Teachers College Track

East Stroudsburg State Teachers College will play host to the first Monroe County Track and Field Day in many years when some 350 athletes gather on the Normal Hill track on Monday.

The program is scheduled to start at 1 p.m. There will be three classes of competition, namely "A," "B," and "C." The older students will be in class "A," while the younger high school students will fall in class "B." Junior high and grade school students will make up class "C."

Three ribbons will be awarded in each event, but no school champion will be crowned. All of the winning is to be on an individual basis, and no team score is to be kept.

Schools to be represented are Stroudsburg, East Stroudsburg, Pocono, Chestnut Hill, Barrett, Pocono, Coalingaugh, Tobyhanna Township, Middle Smithfield and Smithfield.

Five Games On Agenda

All entries in the Pocono Mountains Baseball League are hopeful of getting a break from the weatherman tomorrow, as the circuit prepares for its third round of games in the present campaign. All action is slated to get underway at 2 p.m.

Only one contest has been postponed thus far this season, but several others have been cut short by rain and still others were under anything but ideal conditions.

The race at the present time is wide open, but each team recognizes the fact that each game won in May will help the standings in August.

West End will play at Kunkletown tomorrow, while Readers battles Barrett on the latter's home field in Canadensis.

Defending champion Lake Harmony opposes Bushkill, at Bushkill, Pocono Lake invades Tannersville, and Saylorsburg battles Anasimink, at Readers.

Art Schaare, third base; Lyle Krall, shortstop; Frear, second base; Randy Morris, first base, and Russ Staples behind the plate.

Other contests in the circuit tomorrow will send Roseto against Portland, at Portland, while Stockertown invades Tatamy and Bath battles Martins Creek on the latter's home field.

Pocono A. C., Roseto, Tatamy and Martins Creek won last Sunday's opening round games, while Stockertown, Johnsonville, Portland and Bath went down to defeat.

Eastern Poconos To Hold Dinner

Bushkill — Over 350 persons are expected to attend the seventh annual dinner of the Eastern Pocono Resort Association at Bushkill Falls House here Thursday.

Highlighting the program will be Dorothy Baxter, musical comedy and operetta star. Mrs. Helen Hayne, entertainment committee chairman told the board of directors this week that Clyde Owens, well known Wilkes-Barre musician will serve as master of ceremonies. Music by Danny Cascioli and his orchestra, of Bangor, will be featured.

William Altier, association president, will preside for the dinner meeting at 7. Hospitality hour will precede, beginning at 5:30. Arrangements for the program were made by committees selected from over 100 association members who are cooperating with the banquet. In addition to Mrs. Hayne, others on the entertainment committee are Donald Olivero and Elwood Huffman. Ticket committee comprises Charles Theodore, chairman, Alvin DeWitt and Adolph Schmidt.

Miss Baxter was seen in Song of Norway, Bloomer Girl and Sing out Sweet Land, all Broadway musicals, and spent a season in operettas at the Paper Mill Playhouse, Milburn, N.J.

Her musical background also includes appearances with Xavier Cugat, Ray Block, Lyn Murray and on the Prudential Family Hour and Kate Smith programs. She also sang on cruises to Bermuda and West Indies. She also entertained in night clubs in and around New York and other Eastern cities and was with the USO on tour.

Owens is conductor of the Concordia Male Chorus, comprising 100 voices. He also is concert master of a symphony orchestra and violin soloist. He has appeared in leading U.S. cities, and expects to leave for Europe in July.
